

St Pancras Afternoon Tea

A JOURNEY ACROSS EUROPE

With history comes heritage, with invention comes new experience; this afternoon tea integrates the two, combining tradition with non-tradition, the classic with the contemporary, and the global with the local.

£38

THE KENTISH

Traditionally grown in Kent, Strawberries and Cream represent the essence of British culture.

Vanilla Cream Mouse, Kentish Strawberry Preserve, White Chocolate

AN HONOUR OF LE PARIS-BREST-PARIS

The Paris Brest was invented to commemorate the Paris-Brest-Paris bicycle race in 1891; it is now a mark of Parisian culture.

Hazelnut Mousseline, Caramelised Hazelnut

A TRIBUTE TO GERARD KAMPHUISEN

The Stroopwafel was the invention of baker Gerard Kamphuisen, dating back to 1810; we honour his legacy with a modern twist.

Ginger Tea Cake, Cinnamon Cream Cheese, Dutch Stroopwafel

THE 400TH ANNIVERSARY

Belgian Chocolate is now 400 years old, in the past it was supplied as medicine, today to satisfy the sweet tooth.

Single Origin 66% Cacao Berry, Confit Orange, Speculoos

A SPANISH TRADITION

The Tarta De Turrón holds rich Spanish heritage, it was traditionally served for the Señor de los Milagros.

Caramelized Pecan, Hazelnut & Almond Tart, Dulche de Leche

THE DUTCH SCOTTISH DEBATE

For some, Scones comes from the Dutch word 'schoonbrot', for others it comes from Stone of Destiny, where the Kings of Scotland were crowned.

Freshly Baked Raisin & Plain Scones, Cornish Clotted Cream, Strawberry Preserve

England

France

Netherlands

Belgium

Spain

THE QUINTESSENTIAL

The Cucumber Sandwich is quintessentially British; it belongs to the Victorian era where it was traditionally served for afternoon tea.

Sliced Cucumber, White Pepper, Salted Butter, Mint, White Tin Loaf

LE PARISIEN

To honor French culture we also present the Jambon Blanc Flume, a sandwich that combines French essentials.

Smoked Cooked Ham, Dijon Mustard Mayonnaise, Comte Cheese, Pain De Mie

BREAKFAST, LUNCH, DINNER

Salmon Dutch Pancakes hold a legacy of their own, so much so that they are served during any meal in the day.

Gold Smoked Atlantic Salmon, Dill & Lemon Butter, Samphire, Savoury Dutch Pancake

A JOURNEY BACK IN TIME

Although the Choux Bun originated in France, it has been adopted by Belgium as an integral aspect of their culture, in this instance we place with Prawn Cocktail.

Atlantic Shrimp, Marie Roe, Avocado Cream, Choux Bun

THE NORTHERN SPAIN NATIVE

Piquillo peppers hold heritage in Northern Spain and were traditionally cultivated near the town of Lodosa.

Grilled Piquillo Peppers & Courgette, Sundried Tomato Cheese, Baby Basil, Tomato Bread