Tea History

Tea plants are native to East and South Asia, and probably originated around the meeting points of the lands of north Burma and southwest China. Since the 18th century the United Kingdom has been one of the largest tea consumers in the world, with average supply at 1.9 kg per person every year.

The popularity of tea occasioned the furtive export of slips, a small shoot for planting or twig for grafting to tea plants, from China to British India and its commercial culture there, beginning in 1840; British interests controlled tea production in the subcontinent. Tea, which was an upper-class drink in Europe, became the infusion of every class in Great Britain in the course of the 18th century and has remained so.

In Britain, the drinking of tea is so varied that it is quite hard to generalize. While it is usually served with milk, it is not uncommon to drink it black or with lemon, with sugar being a popular addition to any of the above. Strong tea served with milk (and usually one or two teaspoons of sugar) in a mug is commonly referred to as “builder’s tea”.

Our hand-picked selection of Teas are supplied by Henrietta of Rare Tea Company.

BLACK TEA

ENGLISH BREAKFAST Makaibari Estate, Darjeeling, India and Satemwa Estate, Shire Highlands, Malawi

2ND FLUSH MUSCATEL DARJEELING Makaibari Estate, Darjeeling, India
This highly fragrant black tea is picked in the foothills of the Himalayas, on one of the oldest and most beautiful estates in Darjeeling.
This tea has a heady floral aroma with soft notes of muscatel grapes.

CHINA GREEN LEAF TEA Fuding, Fujian Province, China
The leaves are fired in a wok over charcoal in the same way and in the same place they have been made for over 3000 years. Clean, bright and remarkably delicate.

GENMAICHA Shizuoka, Japan

HERBAL INFUSIONS (CAFFEINE FREE)

ENGLISH CHAMOMILE Tregothnan Estate, Cornwall, UK
Grown in a botanical garden on the Tregothnan Estate in Cornwall, these flowers are tenderly picked with delicate blossoms and long stems, which add hay flavours.

ENGLISH PEPPERMINT Tregothnan Estate, Cornwall, UK
A rare English peppermint grown in Cornwall in the 14th century family-run estate. Counter-intuitively, the menthol oils infuse more easily from the dried leaf, giving a brighter, cleaner flavour than fresh mint.

LEMON VERBENA Provence, France
Aloysiacitrodora or lemon verbena is originally from South America. It was brought to Europe by the Spanish in the 17th Century. A pure herb with a mellow lemon flavour, it makes a wonderful digestive.

WILD ROOIBOS Cederberg Mountains, South Africa
The real South African Red Bush. A richly delicious infusion with deep earthy notes, bright red berries and cedar. Can be beautifully enhanced by the addition of honey or maple syrup and a twist of lemon zest.

SRI LANKAN LEMONGRASS Amba Estate, Ravanna Falls
This uniquely complex and full-bodied lemongrass is grown on a remote mountain tea garden above the Ravanna Falls, Sri Lanka.
A rich and exceptionally bright herbal infusion with grassy notes of cut hay and lemon drops.
